Caritas CR President's Foreword

The chosen name of our organisation, the Latin word “caritas” (“charita” in Czech and “charity” in English), means compassionate love. For us, this represents both a challenge and a promise – that while commendably trying to keep abreast with the fast-moving time, and with all the essential technical inventions, and while duly observing all regulations and standards, we should never forget that the objective of our work is the humble aid to a suffering human being. The ideals of Christian humanity are indeed what Caritas was built on; it lives and it has flourished into a strong and diverse organisation, benefiting our whole society.

All who take part in this work deserve my thanks – and I am thinking of the crowds of volunteers, without whom the Three Kings Collection would be unthinkable, and of the great many benefactors and sympathisers, and of all the employees and their family members. At the same time, I am not forgetting about the clients for whom Caritas provides care.

For your work, support, and cooperation, I beseech God's help for all of you, and gladly bless you!

Mons Pavel Posád, Bishop, President of Caritas CR

Caritas CR Director's Foreword

Dear employees, volunteers, donors, partners, supporters, and friends of charitable work, Allow me to thank you most cordially for your selfless enthusiasm, for your support and helpfulness, with which you either helped to bear life's burdens of our clients – neighbours in need – over the last year, or you supported the work of Caritas CR in another shape or form.

The need for Caritas is proven by deeds. And we hereby present you with a report of these deeds – in no small number – in words and tables, with the help of lists, statistics, and photographs. Behind the dry and technical descriptions and numbers are thousands of specific, often complicated, human fortunes, in which the helping hand of Caritas intervened. Once again, I thank all who contributed and keep contributing in any way to this magnificent work.

Regards,

Lukáš Curylo, Director of Caritas CR

≡ About Caritas Czech Republic

(Charita Česká republika)

Mission Statement

To help people in distress, peril, and need regardless of their race, ethnic origin, religion, nationality, or political creed, and to do so through charitable, social, and health care services, and humanitarian aid and development cooperation

Caritas ran 1,198 services in various facilities providing social care, social prevention, health care services, hospice care, and other kinds of services and assistance.

Caritas organisations recorded 91,191 clients, and assisted thousands more anonymously – older people, people with disability, children and young people, mothers in distress, and others in need.

Immigrant advice centres in České Budějovice, Plzeň, Litoměřice, Prague, Hradec Králové, Brno, Blansko and Hodonín helped 3,997 clients and handled 11,455 interventions or contacts.

Caritas CR supported humanitarian aid for 390 Syrian families, who left for other parts of Syria or to neighbouring Jordan because of the on-going conflict.

Caritas CR helped secure supplies of food, water, and personal hygiene items, and contributed towards housing, including insulation.

Caritas CR and arch/diocese and local Caritas organizations worked in 29 countries worldwide, focusing on health care, social care, and education. They also helped increase the income of families, supported farming, and promoted human rights and civic society.

The total of 7,273 employees worked in approximately 340 Czech Caritas organisations, most of them in Olomouc, Ostrava/Opava, and Brno.

Seven primary schools and lower secondary schools were involved in the educational project Humanitarian Aid and Development Cooperation in Schools ("HUMR").

Almost 600 students took part in workshops organised in these schools.

All Czech Caritas organizations received help from 4,068 volunteers, be it short term or all year round. A great help also were the 52,727 carollers, who volunteered to support the Three Kings Collection; only thanks to them, the 2013 collection was a success again.

Through the Three Kings Collection, USD 3,931,547 was raised, out of which Czech Caritas organisations were able to operate various social and health care facilities in the CR, and to support their activities abroad.

Caritas CR and individual arch/diocese Caritas organizations worked in 2013 with funds amounting to USD 146m.

⇒ Social and Health Care Services

Caritas provides comprehensive care to people who happen to be in distress or a difficult social situation, people with disabilities, the terminally ill, substance users, prisoners, victims of domestic violence and trafficking, people affected by extreme events such as floods, fires, etc. Caritas helps men, women, and children regardless their age and religion.

In 2013, Caritas organisations operated 1,198 registered services. They helped more than 90,000 registered clients, and further thousands whose details are not recorded. The public got a peek behind the scenes of our charitable work in a Czech Television documentary series called Stories the World Can't See (Příběhy, které svět nevidí).

SOCIAL SERVICES

Caritas organisations provide various social services. In the following outline, they are categorised in accordance with Act No 108/2006 Coll, on Social Services.

SOCIAL ADVICE CENTRES

Social advice centres exist to help clients communicate with authorities and arrange help, among other things. In the last couple of years, the centres also often take on loan advice and legal advice. The 71 advice centres operated by Caritas reported more than 55,000 contacts in total.

SOCIAL CARE SERVICES

Traditionally, Caritas facilities primarily offer services that allow those who are seriously ill to remain as long as possible in the normal environment of their own home. These include care service, home (nursing) care, and personal assistance (62 personal assistance services), as well as emergency care (2 services) and independent living support (2 services).

Relief services (47 services) are available to those who decided to care for their loved ones. Nearly three million home visits have been secured by Caritas organisations in 2013 as a part of care service.

Also available are day care centres (36 services), week care centres (5 services), and day service centres (15 services). These services are often complemented by medical equipment loans.

When circumstances make it impossible for clients to remain in their normal environment, they can use residential facilities. Last year, Caritas operated 38 older people's homes, 9 special regime homes, and 11 sheltered housing facilities.

SOCIAL PREVENTION SERVICES

This kind of services helps people at risk of social exclusion. Among them are services for homeless people: walk-in day centres (300,000 men and women used our services during the last year to take a shower and get a meal), shelters (provided a place to sleep to 3,687 persons), and asylum houses (23 houses offered 639 beds for longer-term accommodation).

Asylum houses (41 houses with capacity for 1,172 places) are a safe haven for mothers with children in need. These services are often accompanied by others, such as field programmes (22 services), contact centres (7 services), crisis aid (10 services), and social activation services for families with children (60 services). Social activation services are also provided to older people and people with disabilities (27 services of this type were in operation).

For children and young people prone to social pathologies, walk-in clubs for children and young people (58 facilities) offer suitable activities. Early care services (4 facilities) provide support for families with children whose development is at risk because of poor health.

All these are but fragments of a wide range of social services offered by Caritas organisations.

HEALTH CARE SERVICES

Caritas organisations operated 81 home care centres in 2013, employing 683 nurses who carried out 1,354,113 visits in the homes of 31,410 clients.

OTHER SERVICES

A very important service is hospice care. Caritas organisations operate four hospices, in which terminally ill people can spend their final days with dignity, free from unbearable pain, in the midst of their loved ones. Centres for home hospice care offer similar services in the clients' homes. Caritas is also involved in providing services for foster parents, principally so in Hradec Králové diocese.

NEW SERVICES AND IMPORTANT ACTIVITIES IN DIOCESES

As full list would overrun this report, only a few examples follow. Matters are treated in greater detail in annual reports of the individual Caritas organisations involved, which can be obtained by contacting the organization directly.

Pizeň

LC Pizeň reconstructed the house in Sladkovského Street, a part of the Sheltered Housing project. Since 2014, it offers 6 flats for older people and people with disabilities, as well as staff facilities.

Prague

AC Prague together with the Salvation Army and Naděje took part in the Vackov Aid Centre project. This night shelter for homeless people operates in winter to top up the capacity of Prague's permanent night shelters. • For the second year, AC Prague took part in a project to bolster parenting skills of single mothers, concerned in particular with the communication between parents and children. • The Fatima Centre for the Physically Impaired widened their range of their services to include people with multiple sclerosis, and now also offers short-term stays.

Integration of Foreigners in the Czech Republic

Caritas workers have long supported foreigners living in the Czech Republic. Services vary, but a large component is advice services offered in diocesan advice centres, officially registered as social services. Foreigners can further turn to the assistance hotline, the Greek Catholic Caritas, and some local and parish Caritas organizations. Staffs in asylum facilities and alien detention centres also provide active assistance.

Caritas organisations put special emphasis on integration activities, such as language courses and social and cultural courses. They are involved with victims of human trafficking and focus on illegal migration. Social assistance is provided for patients within the humanitarian evacuations program MEDEVAC. An integral part of migration work is making the public aware of the issue of migration.

In 2013, the following advice centres for foreigners were in operation:

- DC České Budějovice’s Advice Centre for Foreigners and Migrants
- DC Plzeň’s Advice Centre for Foreigners and Migrants
- DC Litoměřice’s Advice Centre for Foreigners and Migrants
- Migration Centre – AC Prague’s Advice Centre for Migrants and Refugees
- DC Hradec Králové’s Advice Centre for Foreigners and Refugees and Integration Centre for Foreigners Hradec Králové
- Celsuz – DC Brno’s Services for Foreigners
- LC Blansko’s Centre for Foreigners Blansko
- LC Hodonín’s Advice Centre for Foreigners

Below is an overview of numbers of clients and contacts or interventions provided by advice centres in 2013 as free expert social and legal advice:

	Service clients	Contacts and interventions
České Budějovice	300	1 004
Plzeň	420	2 327
Litoměřice	141	346
Prague	1 311	3 251
Hradec Králové	1 152	1 261
Brno	548	2 388
Blansko	72	762
Hodonín	53	116

All migration units also offer field advice services, interpreting, help with finding accommodation and jobs, crisis aid, and, in emergencies, material help including clothes from social clothes banks.

An important part of helping foreigners is assistance services, such as accompanying clients to appointments at government agencies, interpreting, helping them fill out forms, and other support when dealing with government. In 2013, the assistance services for obtaining visas with the Department of Asylum and Migration Policy of the Ministry of Interior was provided on regular basis by Caritas workers in České Budějovice, Hradec Králové, Mladá Boleslav, and Příbram, and upon clients’ request also in Brno, Liberec, Plzeň, Pře-rov, etc.

HELP FOR REFUGEES

Caritas organisations provide support to refugees (asylum seekers and persons who have been granted asylum) and help them integrate into Czech society. They were provided social and legal advice, health assistance, retraining and other courses, and help with finding accommodation and jobs.

In 2013, social workers and lawyers regularly visited refugee facilities operated by the Ministry of Interior’s Refugee Facilities Administration, namely alien detention centres in Bělá pod Bezdězem and reception centres in Prague-Ruzyně and in Zastávka u Brna, where Caritas also operates a sewing workshop and a music rehearsal studio.

Refugees in the accommodation centre in Kostelec nad Orlicí were able to use regular advice, and take part in leisure activities, such as woodcarving workshop, music workshop, and handicraft workshop. In 2013, 662 refugees used the services of Caritas.

Archdiocese Caritas Prague provided social assistance to two child patients from Syria as a part of MEDEVAC programme in 2013. This is a programme of humanitarian evacuations of disabled inhabitants, dedicated primarily to seriously ill children from areas affected by war or otherwise, for whom treatment cannot be secured locally.

The aim of integration-related activities of Caritas services is to promote cooperation and harmonious coexistence of foreigners and the majority society. Diocese Catholic Caritas Hradec Králové operates Centre for Foreigners Hradec Králové, Diocese Caritas Brno and Litoměřice, which cooperate with integration centres in the South Moravian region and Ústí nad Labem region. Some Caritas organizations and the Greek Catholic Caritas organise events to promote good relationships between foreigners and Czech people.

Individual diocese and local Caritas organise all manner of multicultural events. In some regions, such events have been a regular occurrence for several years already. The goal of allencounters where diverse cultures meet each other is to shatter ingrained stereotypes, promote positive perception of foreigners by the majority society, deliver a particular cultural experience, and create space for mutual encounters. These events include the Encounter of the Nations Festival in Hradci Králové, and Summer Garden Party in Plzeň.

In 2013, Diocese Caritas Plzeň and Diocese Catholic Hradec Králové organised 52 discussions about migration for students of primary, secondary, and higher vocational schools. Diocese Caritas Brno created educational programmes, and ran a leisure club centred around intercultural topics. During its course, the minority and majority students got closer to one another, while prejudices, intolerance, and xenophobic attitudes were dispelled.

Yet another event introducing different cultures and challenging stereotypes was the exhibition We Are from the Same Planet, which showed portraits of foreigners photographed by Jindřich Štreit, with captions by Martina Vašíčková. The exhibition travelled the Czech Republic for the third year running, visiting Ústí nad Orlicí (14–30 April), Plzeň (20 September), Mladá Boleslav (18 October – 8 November), and Prague on two occasions: during RefuFest (7 September) as a part of the exhibition Kde domov můj? (“Where is my Home?”), and in the DOX Centre for Contemporary Art in Prague (11 October 2013 – 13 January 2014).

TELEPHONE HELP LINE IN MONGOLIAN AND VIETNAMESE LANGUAGES

In order to aid the integration of Vietnamese and Mongolian speaking foreigners into Czech society, Caritas CR supports the operation of a telephone help line. Its operators anonymously provide information and interpreting via telephone and email. The client’s contact with the help line often provides them an entry into the interconnected network of services to foreigners. The help line frequently turns into a means of fighting rogue employment agents. The helpline is toll free, as is advice on matters of residence, employment and related rights and obligations, access to health care, education, and the system of social services. They also help resolve difficult situations. In 2013, the operators took 682 calls/tasks. The cost of operating the help lines, USD 34,935 in 2013, was met by the Ministry of Interior of the Czech Republic, as a part of their grant programme Integration of Foreigners, and by Caritas CR out of the Three Kings Collection. infolinek, který v roce 2013 stál 694 989 Kč, financovaly Ministerstvo vnitra ČR v rámci dotačního programu Integrace cizinců a Charita ČR z prostředků Tříkrálové sbírky.

Help for migrants and refugees in CR

Individual Caritas organise walk-in courses aimed at integration of foreigners and their successful incorporation into the Czech labour market. Among them, foremost are courses of Czech language, social and cultural skills, IT literacy, and English language.

In 2013, courses in the Czech language were held in the following towns: Blansko, České Budějovice, Dvůr Králové nad Labem, Hořice, Hradec Králové, Kaplice, Ledec nad Sázavou, Mladá Boleslav, Náchod, Plzeň, Prague-Černý Most, and Trutnov.

Humanitarian Aid

Caritas CR helped during several humanitarian crises in 2013: In the Czech Republic, afflicted in June by major floods; in the Philippines, hit in November by typhoon Haiyan, most severely on the islands of Leyte and Samar; in Syria and Jordan, where a conflict dragging on for more than 3 years forced millions of people from their homes, into other parts of the country, or into neighbouring countries; and in Afghanistan, where Caritas CR, among other things, worked to increase the resilience of one area against natural disasters.

FLOODS IN THE CZECH REPUBLIC

At the beginning of 2013, southern, central, and northern parts of Bohemia were hit by large-scale floods. Caritas CR and individual arch/diocese Caritas organizations responded immediately, and opened crisis centres and 24-hour crisis telephone help lines. Various donors contributed almost one million USD via a public collection, and Caritas Germany donated more than USD 1m.

In the course of the clean-up of flood-caused damages, Caritas CR gave away material aid in the value of over USD 0.46m. The remaining funds were used for direct aid to affected families. Part of the funds from German Caritas was used for training Czech Caritas workers, preparing them for helping in potential future catastrophes.

In total, 346 workers did monitoring, and 135 worked on social investigation. More than 100 workers offered psychological first aid, along with 222 volunteers.

PHILIPPINES

On Friday 8 November 2013, typhoon Haiyan hit the Philippine islands of Samar, Leyte, and Cebu. It left behind more than 5,000 victims and hundreds of thousands of people without a home. The Philippine Caritas called NASSA immediately started accepting aid offered by Caritas agencies including Caritas CR. In the first phase, food, water, emergency shelter, and medical care where needed were supplied.

Caritas CR launched a fundraising appeal, and by the end of 2013, Czech donors gave almost USD 0.4m. The funds will be used in particular for the reconstruction of the country in 2014, rebuilding and building schools, and supporting agriculture.

SYRIA, JORDAN

The Syrian civil war has dragged on since April 2011. Fighting between the government and the opposition drove nearly 10 million people out of their homes. They went to other parts of the country, or left for Jordan, Lebanon, and other neighbouring countries.

Distribution of food and other goods in the Philippines in November 2013 (photo: Jim Stipe / Catholic Relief Services)

Caritas CR cooperated with a Syrian NGO to help 1,000 people, who settled in the northern part of the country. The aid included food, drinking water, and baby food.

In Jordan, the local Caritas Jordan is helping refugees, and Caritas CR cooperates with it closely. Refugee families were given vouchers for food, material help such as clothes and shoes, and contributions towards rent or household furnishings, in particular insulation.

AFGHANISTAN

Faryab is a mountainous province in western Afghanistan. Most of its inhabitants live off agriculture, growing wheat, maize, and barley. Only one in four households have access to drinking water. Most of the province is controlled by groups of combatants. Delivering aid to people is difficult, if not impossible.

Caritas CR, together with Slovakian organization People in Peril, provided help in 2013 to seven villages in the Guriwan area and Faryab province to construct flood barriers (five protective walls and two dams), and to reconstruct irrigation facilities and roads destroyed by floods in previous years. Village committees were also created to deal with emergencies; 300 members have undergone necessary training on prevention and risk mitigation for natural disasters.

14 lorries

loaded with material aid were sent by Caritas in Moravia, Silesia, and eastern and western Bohemia to help people afflicted by the flood.

Projects Abroad

Caritas CR and individual arch/diocese Caritas organizations do long-term aid work outside of the Czech Republic, too. Their main concern is improving health and social care, as was the case in Moldova, Kosovo, Serbia, Zambia, or Ukraine, for example. They also provide education for children and young people in Chechnya, Cambodia, and Haiti, and through their child sponsorship programme (“Remote Adoption”) in India, Bolivia, and Peru. In Ethiopia, Georgia, Mongolia, or Haiti, Caritas CR helps local people find or increase their income, and thus improving their living conditions. Meanwhile, in Georgia, Moldova, and Mongolia, Caritas deals with issues of human rights, civic society, and environment.

HEALTH AND SOCIAL CARE

The effort to secure health and social care and improve medical conditions and welfare of children, women, and men both in the Czech Republic and abroad is one of the priorities of Caritas CR and individual arch/diocese Caritas.

One of the ways of ensuring high quality health and social care is through providing so-called home care for people who are ill, elderly, or otherwise needy. Caritas CR has been providing these services in Moldova for many years. In 2013, the services were expanded into the northern part of the country.

Caritas CR contributed to the provision of essential health care in the rural areas of the Mongolian province of Dzavchan, where it supplied 15 mobile sickbays and beds for 23 sum (district) hospitals. At the same time, 105 medical staff (doctors, nurses, laboratory technicians) were trained in areas such as prevention and timely treatment of children’s diseases in cooperation with their parents, and correct assessment of children’s development.

In the Georgian regions of Samegrelo and Shida Kartli, II., Caritas CR supported prevention and detection of cancer in women, and in Moldova prevention and treatment of diabetes (diabetes mellitus).

In the western province of Zambia, a country with high child mortality, Caritas CR started working to improve the quality and accessibility of health care, in particular for mothers and their newborn babies.

In Kosovo region of Prizren and in Georgia, Caritas CR contributed to integration of persons with a physical disability, in particular helping with their employability. In Moldova, Caritas CR worked on improving the conditions of and work with abandoned children, and also supported creative workshops for children from socially disadvantaged families. In Serbia, Caritas CR was involved in improving protection of victims of domestic violence. It helped introduce monitoring and evaluation of inter-sectoral cooperation in this problematic area.

Arch/diocese and other Caritas organizations also supported projects aimed at improving the health and social situation of people in countries around the world, i.e.:

Local Caritas Hodonín secured the provision of basic dental care in Svatá Helena (Sfânta Elena) municipality in Banat region, Romania. And inhabitants of some Czech villages have undergone 108 check-ups and 296 treatments, and received good quality dental care.

Czech Caritas organisations contributed towards the operation or equipment purchases in hospitals and health centres in India, Uganda, and Rwanda, so that health care could reach the poorest of the poor.

Diocese Caritas Ostrava-Opava and Archdiocese Caritas Olomouc in Ukraine, and Diocese Caritas České Budějovice in Zimbabwe engaged in care for older people and for children in children’s homes.

Archdiocese Caritas Prague supported treatment and therapy of people addicted to alcohol in Bhalki, India and provided care for street children in Kinshasa, Congo. This Caritas organization also organised summer camps or stays for Belarusian children from socially disadvantaged families.

DC České Budějovice is involved in support to children, especially Roma, living in socially excluded areas.

EDUCATION

In some countries of the world, there are children who cannot go to school or if they can, they have to tackle many problems, such as distance, having to do chores first, health problems, or a school's lack of finances.

Since 2011, Caritas CR has been working together with US Catholic Relief Services to secure medical examinations and necessary aids for children with a disability in Takeo Province, Cambodia. After diagnosis, children receive necessary equipment like glasses or hearing aids. Furthermore, their teachers are trained to teach children with a greater or lesser degree of disability. This is similar to the activities of Caritas CR in Chechnya. There, too, 114 teachers learned how to teach children with a disability. Also, six selected children enrolled in home study.

Caritas CR supported the education of children of different age groups. In Chechnya, four- to six-year-olds could attend pre-school education centres in Chechnya. Caritas CR helped improve education at 11 secondary schools and four primary schools in South Sudan, and 50 primary schools in Haiti, supplying equipment, training teachers and administrative staff, and setting up parent and school associations.

But older children and children past school age were not left behind. With regard to life-long education, Caritas CR took part in improving knowledge and skills of the long-term unemployed and less-employable people, such as those older than 45, women, persons with disabilities, and young people between 13 and 18.

While most of Caritas CR's education projects are funded by Czech Development Agency, Catholic Relief Services, UNICEF, UN, or European funds, other Czech Caritas organizations finance activities related to education of children and young people chiefly from the Adopce na dálku programme ("Child Sponsorship Programme"). In 2013, donors' generosity made it possible to support, for instance:

- Education of 2,627 children from the poorest families in Bangalore and Belgaum, and 30 girls who studied tailoring in India (DC Hradec Králové).
- Operation of a school for 376 children in Baie de Henne parish and in Emmaus Centre St. Joseph School in Gonaives and other areas of Haiti (AC Olomouc).
- Primary and secondary education for children from poor families in towns and villages of Bolivia, Paraguay, Peru, and Ecuador (DC Plzeň).
- Purchase of equipment for a school and library, securing accommodation for students, and improving conditions in schools of Uganda (AC Prague).

Financial gifts also helped AC Olomouc secure university study for four students in Haiti, three of whom study law, one civil engineering. On the opposite end of the educational ladder, DC Litoměřice focused on pre-school education of the smallest children in Slovakia.

LIVELIHOOD

Another core area of Caritas work abroad are projects that help local people secure a livelihood. Whether a father's or mother's income is sufficient fundamentally shapes the life of the whole family.

In 2013, Caritas CR helped achieve this chiefly through providing farmers with seeds or farm animals for breeding (such as sheep or goats) and training them in animal husbandry and growing cereals or other crops in a sustainable and efficient manner while tailored to local needs. This took place in Ethiopia, Georgia, Haiti, Indonesia, and Mongolia. In most cases service centres or farmers cooperatives are created, and their members share equipment, storage space, etc. Specialised cooperatives dedicated to beekeeping were established in Ethiopia and Georgia.

Many people leave their countries to find work. In Moldova, this phenomenon is widespread. They bring their wages, "remittances," when they come back, or send them to relatives. Caritas CR, together with a local partner, helped start up 81 new businesses, and trained 713 returnees and those who receive remittances to set up and run a business, manage a business, and develop business ideas.

AC Prague trained small-scale growers of coffee, banana, maize, and other crops in Uganda, and trained them in effective crop management and also gave them so-called micro-grants to start. DC Hradec Králové helped form women's self-help groups, whose members were instructed on how to be more independent in earning a living for their families. They were also taught about equality for women and minorities, and trained in leadership.

AC Olomouc worked in Ukraine, supporting beekeeping, as well as the foundation and operation of a juice plant, which created jobs. Earning a certificate of quality helped the plant's produce find its way into retail distribution.

ENVIRONMENT

Caritas CR takes environmental protection very seriously, and 2013 was no exception. Chief among stand-alone environmental projects was the support of developing organic agriculture in Moldova, where 60 farmers were trained in principles of organic agriculture, and 30 farmers in marketing and business planning. Five training farms were founded, to serve as examples of growing crops in an environmentally friendly manner. Ten farms obtained organic certification for their products.

In Mongolia, the local Caritas CR office continued to support the use of more environmentally friendly and energy efficient materials and procedures in the construction industry. Also the research into the usability of fly ash to manufacture construction materials continued in 2013, and the Czech Research Institute of Building Materials identified five types of construction materials that use fly ash as an ingredient. Caritas CR together with the Swedish organisation Environmental Research Institute finalised training in environmentally friendly procedures in the construction industry. Three training sessions took place for small and medium enterprise staff. Representatives of around 90 construction companies attended five conferences on sustainability in manufacturing and construction.

HUMAN RIGHTS AND CIVIC SOCIETY

2013 saw Caritas CR carry on with their activities promoting the civic society and human rights.

The former comprised in particular supporting civic participation in the local government's decision-making in the Georgian city of Batumi, as well as helping find solutions to local problems in remote locations of Cahul District, Moldova.

At the end of the year, activities to bolster the civic society's capacity to combat human trafficking started in Mongolia.

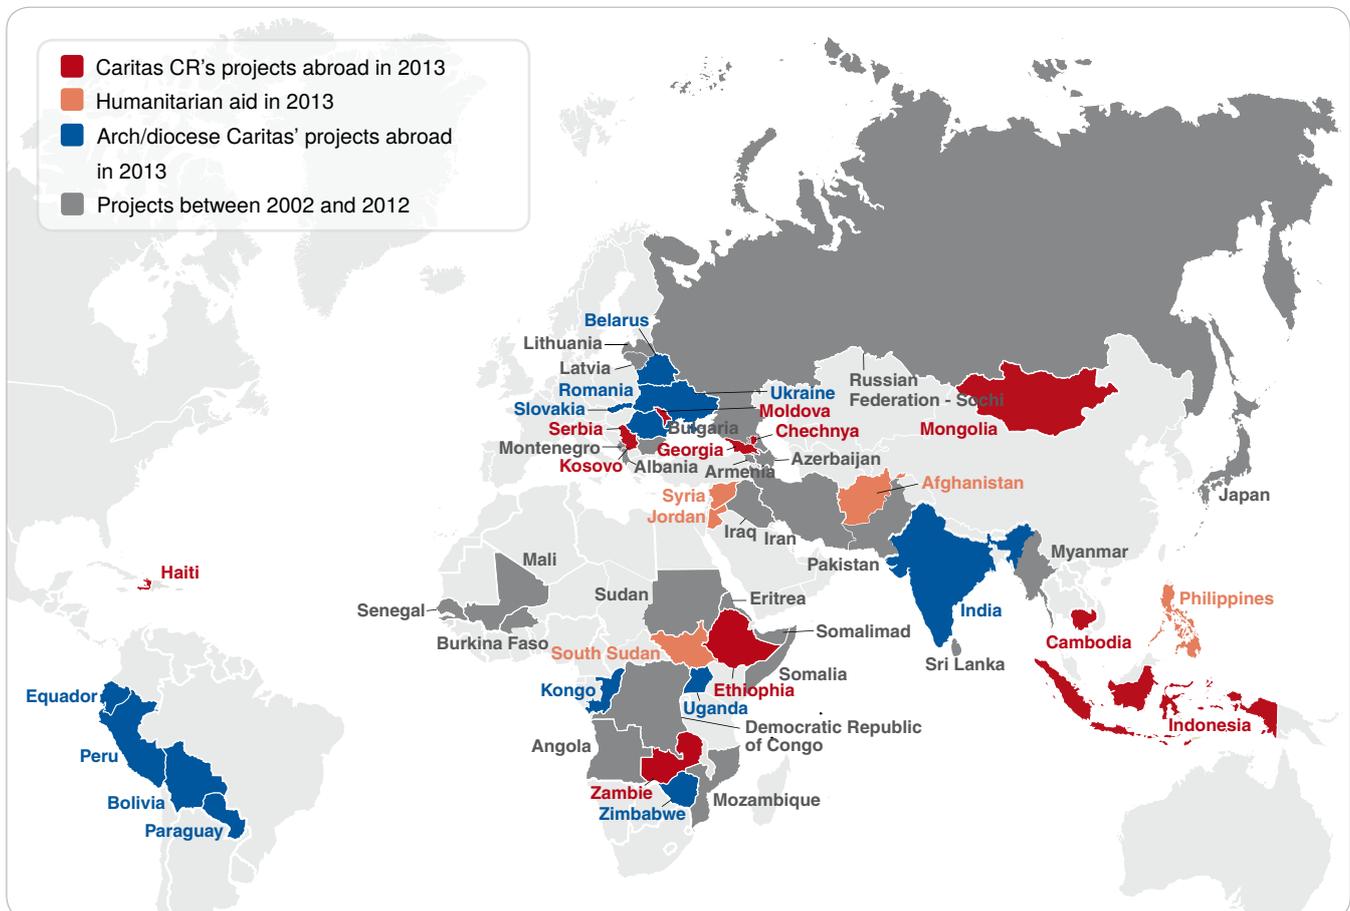

Since 2012, Caritas CR has also been paying attention to the observance of human rights in Mongolian prisons. In spring 2013, surveys were carried out in 24 prisons, and more than 700 inmates serving a sentence or on remand were interviewed. A training module was created for current and future prison social workers, the outcome of cooperation with Prison Fellowship Mongolia, the prison service, and Mongolian University of Science and Technology.

Education

Caritas CR trains its staff and volunteers; in 2013, it also started working on three large educational projects. These covered the provision of efficient social services, introduced various global topics to students and teachers of Czech primary and lower secondary schools, and raised awareness about the right to food among students of several European universities.

EFFICIENT SOCIAL SERVICES

Caritas CR, as a partner of CARITAS – Higher Professional School of Social Work, helped organise seven courses for social workers. The Educating towards Efficient Social Services project, funded by the Human Resources and Employment Operational Programme, will run until mid-2015. It aims to deepen professional, vocational, and managerial competences of workers in social services, in effect improving access to, quality, and efficiency of social services on the side of providers.

To survey educational needs, Caritas CR and CARITAS School used an online survey. Other CCR activities included the preparation of 150 accredited courses for the general public, and arranging work placements for students in facilities that provide social services.

MARIANEUM TRAINING CENTRE

The centre, located in the Prague district of Vinohrady, offers lecture space and accommodation. In 2013, the seminars and other courses that took place here included: Psychobiographical model of care for older people with symptoms of dementia (part 2) – lecturer: Mgr Eva Procházková. Motivating volunteers – lecturer: Mgr Erika Panenková.

GLOBAL DEVELOPMENT EDUCATION

In 2013, Caritas CR launched the Humanitarian Aid and Development Cooperation in Schools (“HUMR”) project, funded by the Czech Development Agency, which will run until 2015. It introduces teachers and students of upper primary and lower secondary schools to various global topics in interactive manner.

Cooperation with seven primary schools enabled nearly 600 students aged 10–15 to attend 15 workshops. Additionally, nine training courses accommodated 82 teachers of upper primary schools. Methodological materials for teachers were updated, too, to include material on humanitarian aid and development cooperation. In this vein, methodology was newly created for History, and updated for Geography.

The training courses and workshops were led by nine lecturers and 14 trained volunteers. Moreover at the end of 2013, three of Caritas CR's educational programs for teachers were awarded accreditation.

TEACHING FAIR TRADE AT UNIVERSITIES

In 2013, Caritas CR commenced a Europe-wide project to raise awareness among university students about the right to access to food as a fundamental point of view in agricultural trade and investment policy. The project is funded by the European Commission and the Czech Development Agency.

Twenty professors met for a round table discussion, and workshops for students were held at Mendel University in Brno and Czech Agricultural University in Prague. A proposal for incorporation of the right to food into academic curricula will be drafted.

In cooperation with partners from the global South, cases of foreign investment that affect the livelihood of farmers were researched.

600 students took part in an educational project called Humanitarian Aid and Development Cooperation in Schools (“HUMR”).

LENT ALMS

An annual pastoral event that occurs during the Lent period revives the ancient tradition of giving alms. Having collected an alms box ("postnička") from their local parish, the faithful then put aside money saved on the pleasures they refrained from during Lent. Funds raised this way help people in need in the local area. In all, 37,000 paper money boxes were manufactured and distributed to dioceses. Arch/diocesan Caritas organisations and the Greek Catholic Caritas participated too.

CARITAS DAY

27 September is dedicated to St Vincent de Paul, patron saint of Caritas. Over a couple of days in September, Czech Caritas organisations held events for the public. These, once again, included open door days, tours, exhibitions and presentations, concerts, or theatre plays for children.

Annually on Caritas Day, the Caritas CR Prize is awarded for contributing to charitable work. At the ceremony on 25 September in St Thomas's Church in Prague, nine Caritas staff and volunteers were presented with their awards:

Božena Pátková, head of Parish Caritas Oslavany and long-standing organiser of the Three Kings Collection

Barbara Litomiská, head of Local Caritas Pelhřimov and social worker

Zuzana Horáková, carer, Local Caritas Jičín

Brigita Janovská, volunteer, Local Caritas Most

Pavel Hofírek, former director of Caritas Kyjov, now volunteer

Martin Pražák, head of Caritas Ostrava

Pavel Barták, vice-head of Diocese Caritas Plzeň for social services in Cheb

SVĚTOVÝ HUMANITÁRNÍ DEN 19/08/2013

WORLD HUMANITARIAN DAY 2013

Along with other Czech NGOs, Caritas CR marked 19 August, the World Humanitarian Day, to remember all humanitarian workers who help people hit by a natural or social disasters, or who lost their lives while helping others.

With the financial support of Czech Development Agency, it was possible to create an extraordinary animated promotional spot. It ran in Czech cinemas, where 190,000 saw it, and on television channels Prima Family and Prima Cool for the audience of 1.7m viewers. The media campaign also comprised print advertisements and a press conference in Atlas cinema in Prague. And finally, the website www.humanitarnipomoc.cz was launched in December.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT

Report on the financial statements

We have audited the enclosed financial statements of Charita Česká republika, which comprise the Balance Sheet as of the 31st December 2013, Profit and Loss Account for the year ending on the 31st December 2013, Statement of Changes in Equity for the year ending on the 31st December 2013, which contain a description of the significant accounting policies used and additional explanatory information. Details on Charita Česká republika are set out in the notes to these financial statements.

Governing body's responsibility for the financial statements

The governing body of Charita Česká republika is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Czech accounting legislation, and for internal controls that the governing body regards as required for the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with the Act on Auditors and International Standards on Auditing and the relevant application guidance of the Chamber of Auditors of the Czech Republic. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance that the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgment, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal controls relevant to the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal controls. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

Opinion

In our opinion, the financial statements accurately present the assets and liabilities of Charita Česká republika as of the 31st December 2013, and its expenses, revenues, financial performance and cash flows for the year ending on the 31st December 2013 in accordance with the Czech accounting legislation.

Without wishing to belittle the opinion on the financial statements of the CCR accounting entity it is nevertheless necessary to state that in 2013 there was a depreciation of receivables in the amount of CZK 980,514 that affected the results of operations and in particular the financial resources of the business.

The accounting entity reported assets of CZK 160,873,000, liabilities of CZK 8,280,000, and a loss of CZK 3,714,000.

Organisational structure

- Local, municipal, and parish Caritas units are the basic units of the Caritas CR network. The main focus of their work is the provision of social and health care services.
- A diocesan Caritas coordinates activities of individual Caritas units in one diocese; some of them also operate services of their own. Most DCs run integration of foreigners and foreign aid projects.
- Caritas CR Secretariat coordinates all of those activities on a national level. It also has a humanitarian aid and a development cooperation department of its own, and operates the Marianum Training Centre and St. Vincent's Info Centre and Shop.
